

OIL SAMPLING PORT INSTALLATION

In order to get meaningful results from oil sampling it is essential that the sample is representative of the oil in use. It needs to be taken from a spot where the oil is in free flow and that future oil samples will be from the same point (repeatability).

Precise Lubrication will fit oil sampling ports to your machines and train your staff in the correct method of taking samples so that you get the greatest benefit from your oil analysis results.

